

BRITISH WEST AFRICA STUDY CIRCLE

THE POST OFFICE IMPRESSION BOOKS

THE IMPRESSION BOOKS

This publication resulted from discussions that Mr Martin and I have had over the past two years. On various occasions we have separately visited the Post Office Records to check on West African postmarks and have thought how convenient it would be to have a complete record in our own homes. The Circle's funds now permit us issuing every member with a copy of each postmark struck in the Impression Books. No longer will it be necessary to search the volumes only to discover that no impression of a particular postmark was registered or survives. Mr Martin has reviewed the index made by Mr R E Group FRPSL in 1966 and has arranged for the necessary photostats to be taken. The West African postmarks have been cut out from the photostats of complete pages - for these cover the whole world - and they are shown in the approximate order in which they appear.

The Records from which the extracts are taken comprise 72 volumes of steel and brass impressions plus 25 of rubber. They date from 1825 and continue until the mid 1960's. The original intention was to record by a dated impression every postmark supplied but as numbers increased no details were added and in recent years the dates are rarely shown. Where no dates appear a date has been estimated from nearby pages. The Books themselves are made up of photostats and, as will be seen, the clarity of the pages varies.

In some cases it is obvious that the pages have been assembled by pasting cutouts onto paper - as we have done - and the cancellations are not necessarily related by date. We understand that many volumes were damaged, the surviving parts being later attached together.

It is obvious that the Books do not give us anything like a complete listing of the postmarks. There is a gap of over forty years in this century and the earlier records are far from complete. It would be dangerous to argue that the first despatch of a canceller is that shown, for an earlier similar canceller may have been supplied. Nevertheless, the Books contain a mine of fascinating information, not least those examples that have not so far been recorded. The only Impressions that we have not included are those of brass seals which it is impossible, or almost impossible, to read.

Index

The production of the index proved an interesting, if somewhat laborious, task. The word 'REGISTERED' where it appears in a handstamp has been ignored for the purposes of this index, so for example REGISTERED / ASABA NIGERIA is listed in the Nigeria section under ASABA. Handstamps such as TELEGRAPHS APAPA have been included with the town name first to allow easier searching.

Post towns have generally been omitted from the listings; this is not the case for Cameroons where it was felt that their inclusion added value.

Where a general handstamp was known to have been allocated to a specific post office, this has been included in italics in square brackets, for example UNPAID [Cape Coast].
